

COHALAN CAMPAIGN BACKERS PLAN DRIVE

Expect Surrogate Out in Open After Party Designations Are Filed.

REPUBLICANS CHEERED

Think Independent Candidate
May Help Coleman
Beat O'Brien.

MURPHY TO STAND PAT

Now Out to Try to Pick Man to Give Ryan a Good Run for Congress.

Plans for supporting Surrogate John P. Cohalan as an independent candidate for reelection to that office, for which he was rejected by Tammany Hall at the instance of Charles F. Murphy, were discussed yesterday afternoon.

George L. Shearer, chairman, and Leslie J. Tompkins, treasurer, of the John P. Cohalan Non-partisan Committee of Lawyers of the County of New York, conferred with the surrogate for two hours. Later Mr. Shearer and Shearer, called a meeting of the executive committee for the headquarters of the New York County Lawyers Association, 155 Broadway, at 2 P. M. to-morrow.

As has been stated, Surrogate Cohalan will run as an independent candidate, if neither the Democratic nor the Republican organization reverses itself and substitutes him in place of one of the present designees. He does not care to assume that such reversal may not happen until after the last day for filing declarations and filing substitutions. That day is September 1.

Committee to Go Ahead.

His committee will probably go ahead to-morrow and develop plans for a campaign in which he will run as a straight independent. It is not considered likely that either party will change the action that was taken on the Surrogate question last week when Tammany Executive Committee named John P. O'Brien, Corporation Counsel, and the Republican Executive Committee designated Frank J. Coleman, Jr., Justice of the Municipal Court.

The Republicans feel that an independent candidacy by Surrogate Cohalan is likely to result in the election of their candidate. Tammany leaders agree that this is quite possible. However, the feeling against the Surrogate on the part of those responsible for turning him down is so strong that even that consideration is not likely to carry much weight.

Mr. Murphy came to town from Good Ground to iron out some last snarls in designations yesterday. It was stated on good authority, however, that the O'Brien designation would go through.

A majority of the Tammany leaders conferred with Mr. Murphy on the gubernatorial situation. The leaders stood almost solidly for Alfred E. Smith. It is understood that Nathan Burkan and Edmund P. Cohanah are the only Hearst supporters left.

The principal trouble of the Boss is to pick a candidate for Congress in the Fifteenth district, now represented by Representative Thomas Jefferson Ryan. He won on the Republican ticket two years ago in a district considered Democratic nominally. The candidates for the Democratic designation are Senator John F. Boylan, former Alderman John F. McCurt and John McCann, a City Marshal. The decision must be made so that the petitions may be prepared for filing not later than to-night at midnight.

Irish Call on Republicans.

At a meeting in the Yorkville Casino, 219 East Eighty-sixth street, last night the Friends of Irish Freedom condemned the action of the Democratic and Republican bosses in their repudiation of Surrogate Cohalan. Resolutions were passed, which said:

"John P. Cohalan has served the people of New York county with unsurpassed distinction during the last fourteen years. We appreciate the attitude of the many New York daily newspapers and their exposure of this high handed act of treachery on the part of the bosses. We request the representative men and women of the Bureau of the City of New York to take the attitude that this action of the bosses be reversed and that John P. Cohalan be designated by said party as was so wisely done in the case of Justice Newbold a few days ago."

AMBULANCE PHYSICIAN

SUSPENDED BY HOSPITAL

Charged With Refusing to Convey Woman Patient.

Dr. Benjamin Stoller has been temporarily suspended from the staff of Flower Hospital and also dropped by the City Board of Ambulance service pending further investigation into the charges that he refused to take a sick woman to the hospital from the Grand Central Terminal on Sunday night.

Mrs. Agnes Ross of Chappaqua, N. Y., is now in Bellevue Hospital suffering from ulcers of the stomach, where she was taken by Mrs. Katherine Hopper, a nurse that happened to be in the waiting room when Dr. Stoller declared the woman was not ill enough to go to Flower Hospital in the ambulance of which he was in charge. Chief Examiner James L. Murray of the Ambulance Board obtained a written statement from Dr. Stoller yesterday in which the ambulance physician said he found Mrs. Ross somewhat dizzy but not suffering enough to be taken in his conveyance to Flower Hospital.

BOY, 9, TELLS OF KIDNAP PIRATE TO RESCUE SISTER

Pair Found Asleep in Water Street Doorway Excite
Police With Sea Adventure, Only to Be Sent Home to a Terribly Realistic Mother.

Harold Boucha and his sister Mildred of 238 Eighth avenue, who are 9 and 8 years old, respectively, stood up almost all day yesterday, and it probably will be several days before they feel equal to participating in such pleasures as sliding down the chutes at the public playground. Their condition, which they regard as critical, is a receipt for what their mother gave them when she learned what a whopping big tale they had told the police about a wholly mythical and adventurous voyage from Boston. According to the best information obtainable, she gave them exactly what she felt they had come to them, and then a little bit more for luck.

Harold and Mildred came to the notice of the Police Department late Sunday night, when Patrolman Ernest Reddin of the Old Slip station found them sleeping in a Water street doorway. They took them to the station house, where the police on reserve sent out and bought them coffee and cake. Then the desk sergeant asked them where they lived, and Harold's father had told them to go to the station house, where the police on reserve sent out and bought them coffee and cake.

"We walked to Boston this morning," said Harold, "and we sneaked aboard a ship and got in New York to-night."

"What happened on the ship?" asked the sergeant.

Harold's fancy soared wild and free. "A great big brown bear came down where we were hiding and tried to eat Mildred up," he said, breathlessly, "and then a pirate came with red pants on and said we'd have to walk the plank, and then—"

"One at a time," requested the sergeant. "What happened to the bear?"

"I killed him," said Harold. "I knocked his block off. I killed the pirate, too, and—"

"I see," said the sergeant. "Well, so Harold and Mildred ate their cake and thought up more whoppers, which they told to the reserve cops while the sergeant got ready to telephone the Roxbury police. But before this could be done a message was received from the Missing Persons Bureau to look for two children who had run away from their home in Eighth avenue and whose description fitted Harold and Mildred. So the cops telephoned Mrs. Boucha and she came and identified the children. Their condition, which they regard as critical, is a receipt for what their mother gave them when she learned what a whopping big tale they had told the police about a wholly mythical and adventurous voyage from Boston.

EIGHT HEIRS TO GET BOSTWICK MILLIONS

Grandchildren of Standard Oil Official's Widow to Divide $6,000,000.

Eight grandchildren of the late Helen C. Bostwick, widow of Jabez A. Bostwick, one time official of the Standard Oil Company, will share funds of her estate aggregating nearly $6,000,000 if the report of Harry N. French of 31 Nassau street, referee, is accepted. The report was filed yesterday in the Supreme Court.

The beneficiaries are Marion Carstairs de Pret, Evelyn Francis and Francis Francis, Jr., children of the late Mrs. Bostwick, who was Miss Evelyn Bostwick, and Dorothy, Albert C. Lillian S. Dunbar W. and George H., the children of the late Albert C. Bostwick.

Of a trust of $4,273,578 the three children of Mrs. Bostwick would receive one-eighth each, the five other children one-tenth each, and Marion Carstairs de Pret and Francis Francis, Jr., each one-twentieth.

Income of the trust would go in five shares of $24,248 each, and five of $30,210 each, the larger shares to the children of Mrs. Bostwick. However, the feeling against the Surrogate on the part of those responsible for turning him down is so strong that even that consideration is not likely to carry much weight.

Mr. French recommends $25,000 for Lawrence Atterbury for his services as guardian ad litem for the minor children of Albert C. Bostwick and $20,000 for Hall Park McCullough as guardian ad litem for those of Mr. Francis.

E. T. BEDFORD 2D SUE BY HIS FORMER WIFE

Late Mayor Gaynor's Daughter
Says $2,000 Is Due Son.

Mrs. Helen Gaynor Bedford Kernochan, daughter of the late Mayor Gaynor, has filed suit against her former husband, Edward T. Bedford 2d, in the Brooklyn Supreme Court, for the recovery of some $2,000 which Mrs. Kernochan claims is due her for the support of her son, Edward T. Bedford 3d, now 6 years old.

Mrs. Kernochan obtained a divorce from E. T. Bedford 2d in Nevada two years ago. She alleges that he agreed to pay $20 a month for the support of the boy, who was placed in her custody, and that the arrears extend over many months.

Bedford, in answer, said Mrs. Kernochan has failed to account for money already received for the boy's support. Mrs. Kernochan contends this is unnecessary and is moving for summary judgment or the striking out of the answer.

Mrs. Kernochan is now the wife of Whitney Kernochan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kernochan. E. T. Bedford 2d is the son of Frederick H. Bedford and a nephew of E. T. Bedford.

FATHER, 2 SONS, HELD FOR FRAUD; EXTRADITED

Philadelphia Accused in Sale of Motion Picture Patent.

Irving A. Whitman, 60, and his sons, Vincent, 30, and Bernard, 28, who were arrested here on July 31 and taken back to Philadelphia, their home city, yesterday, to face a charge of having defrauded Lincoln Eyrle, a Philadelphia lawyer. The lawyer alleges that the Whitmans obtained considerable money from him by selling to him patent rights in a motion picture project and that the same rights later were resold to others.

Whitman and his sons are said to have been the organizers of the American Studios of America, a Philadelphia concern. When they were arraigned in West Side Court yesterday a Philadelphia detective produced a warrant for them, and the New York police delivered to the court extradition papers signed by Gov. Miller. The defendants said that they had retained former Gov. Whitman to defend them, but that he was out of the city.

ALLEGED UNDESIRABLE ARRESTED FOR BIGAMY

Prisoner Also Said to Have Posed as Officer.

An he was leaving the Long Island City police court yesterday, where he had been ordered to pay his wife $10 for support, Dominick Simeone was re-arrested on a warrant issued in New York City charging him with bigamy in Waterbury in 1920. He was sent to jail pending extradition proceedings.

It is charged he married Mary Pinto, who sued him in Long Island City for non-support, when he had a wife and two children in Italy, whom he deserted five years ago. Last July Simeone was arrested by Federal authorities and he is under bail pending hearing on deportation as an undesirable.

According to Assistant District Attorney Joseph J. Lenardo of Queens, Simeone has posed in this country as a priest, a titled foreigner and an Italian army officer, and obtained large sums of money from a widow in Newark, N. J., with whom he boarded.

RIO ERECTS U. S. GIFT STATUE IN HARBOR

Hughes's Visit Eagerly Awaited at Exposition, Says Traveler From Brazil.

Returning from Buenos Aires, Rio and Montevideo the steamship Western World docked at Pier 1, Hoboken, yesterday, bringing a number of American tourists who have recently visited South American cities. Among those who arrived was Mrs. Arthur L. Livermore, wife of a New York attorney and member of the United States commission to the Brazilian Exposition.

Mrs. Livermore said that she had received a radio message while at sea to proceed to Washington to have a conference with Secretary of State Hughes, who will sail for the exposition on Thursday.

The success of the exposition is assured, Mrs. Livermore said, and told of the work being done in preparation for the opening, which will take place on September 7. The building which will house the United States exhibit and headquarters of the exposition is situated with a commanding view, and at the close of the exposition will be used for the American Embassy there.

Mrs. Livermore made no reference to the report of dissension among the commission or among the officials at the exposition, but stated that everything was progressing rapidly in the opening. She will return to Rio soon. J. W. Finch, who has been in charge of the steel construction work at the exposition, also returned aboard the ship.

John L. Merrill, president of the All America Cable, Inc., and the chairman of the United States Commission for the Brazilian Centennial Memorial, who was accompanied by his wife and his assistant, W. Irving Harris.

Mr. Merrill stated that he was greatly impressed at the cordial feeling which the representatives of all the other nations at the exposition have for the United States. "Great enthusiasm is being shown in Brazil over the visit of the United States," he said.

Mr. Merrill said, and told of the erection of the statue of "Friendship" given by the United States to the people of Brazil. The great statue is being placed in the harbor of Rio, just as the Statue of Liberty is placed in New York harbor.

Olga Wells, a Hungarian dancer, who has completed a season in the Argentine, returned on board the ship for a tour of this country.

YOUTHFUL SAILORS CRY 'ENOUGH' AFTER 1 TRIP

Calluses Help to Dissuade
Boys to Forgo Sea Life.

"The Sailor's Life Is the Life for Me!" will never be sung again by either Louis Scott, Jr., or Oliver Clapp, Jr., who arrived here yesterday on board the Grace Line steamer Santa Luisa from South America. The two youths shipped aboard the liner as seamen, but declared yesterday they would never spend any more days on a pitching deck. They're through!

Louis Scott, whose father is the vice-president of the Grace Line, lives in South Orange, N. J., and the Clapp boy, who father is an insurance broker of 129 William street, decided a month ago that they would try sailing and left on board the Santa Luisa for South America. The boys displayed healthy blisters and calluses and each wore a heavy coat of tan from the tropical sun.

MAN CLAIMING KINSHIP TO SEN. JOHNSON HELD

Marine Engineer Accused of Breaking Policeman's Nose.

Hiram Johnson, 20, a marine engineer, who says he is a nephew of Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, was in Fifth avenue court, Brooklyn, yesterday to answer to a charge of assault made by Policeman Francis McGreevey of the Fifth avenue station. McGreevey appeared against him, exhibiting a broken nose and a bugged up jaw.

Johnson, who is first engineer on the steamship Diana Dollar of the Dollar line, and another marine engineer were in a cafe in Fifth avenue near Ninth street yesterday morning and the proprietor ordered them to leave. They started, but when they noticed that others who were in the place were not going away they made a protest. Johnson said McGreevey raised an arm as though to strike a blow and he hit first Johnson was held in $500 bail for trial in Special Sessions.

SAYS THIS LABOR DAY IS MOST SIGNIFICANT

A. F. of L. Appeal Points to Gains by Capitalists.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday issued a call for workmen throughout the country to celebrate Labor Day on September 4. He pointed out that Labor Day, 1922, would be the most significant in the history of the American trade union movement.

The reason, it is stated, is that the workers are confronted with more adverse court decisions and by a stronger combination of capitalists than ever before in the history of America.

COUNTY DAUGHTER

ORDERED DEPORTED

Viscountess de Beedelievre
Blames Man Who Said He Was to Marry Her.

SHE EXPECTS A DIVORCE

Mixup Due to Attempt to Ease
Way Into the Country—
Decision Is Appealed.

The Viscountess Barenegere P. de Beedelievre, daughter of the Comte de Chatelet of France, was ordered deported yesterday by a special board of inquiry at Ellis Island after a second hearing of the case. The Viscountess, who arrived here on the Homeric of the White Star Line last Thursday, was ordered deported under the technical ruling that she is likely to become a public charge, although witnesses at the hearing yesterday testified to her identity and her ability to support herself.

According to the Viscountess, she has been the victim of a well meant but crude attempt to get her into this country. Robert Grant, who describes himself as a golf player, and who gave the address of Ardmore Park, Pa., care of George Sears, told the immigration authorities that he intended to marry the Viscountess. Her lawyer testified that she was married but expected a decree of divorce in October from the French courts. She was sent to Ellis Island.

Met at Monte Carlo.

The Viscountess tearfully said yesterday that she never had any intention of marrying the young golfer whom she met on the links at Monte Carlo. The reason she told the immigration officials that she might marry him was because she believed that this might get her into the United States and save her the inconvenience of being deported. On the strength of her denial of the previous story told at an inquiry, the officials decided to deport her.

Miss Alice Reynolds of 238 Walnut street, Brookline, Mass., a friend of the Viscountess, arrived at Ellis Island yesterday just before the second hearing was called by Assistant Commissioner Harry R. Landis, head of the Appeal Division. Miss Reynolds told Mr. Landis that she knows the Viscountess's family well. Mr. Landis called a second hearing, which also returned a verdict for deportation.

An appeal has been forwarded on behalf of the Viscountess to Secretary of Labor Davis. He can admit her to the country under bond as a visitor or under any other classification he may designate. If the appeal fails she will be deported.

Child Started Trouble.

"There was no such understanding between Mr. Grant and myself," the Viscountess said yesterday. "I am not going to marry him and never thought of such a thing. He was merely a good friend of mine and took what he thought the best way of getting me in. Now he has gotten me into as much trouble as if he never tried to help me and I must go back to Europe for the time being. She will return to Rio soon. J. W. Finch, who has been in charge of the steel construction work at the exposition, also returned aboard the ship.

John L. Merrill, president of the All America Cable, Inc., and the chairman of the United States Commission for the Brazilian Centennial Memorial, who was accompanied by his wife and his assistant, W. Irving Harris.

Mr. Merrill stated that he was greatly impressed at the cordial feeling which the representatives of all the other nations at the exposition have for the United States. "Great enthusiasm is being shown in Brazil over the visit of the United States," he said.

Mr. Merrill said, and told of the erection of the statue of "Friendship" given by the United States to the people of Brazil. The great statue is being placed in the harbor of Rio, just as the Statue of Liberty is placed in New York harbor.

MARKET JOBS AT LAST UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

City Plans Examinations Provided by Law.

The Municipal Civil Service Commission yesterday began to advertise for applications to take examinations for the places of supervisor and deputy supervisor in the Department of Markets. They will be received until Tuesday, September 5.

Thus the city administration has made a move at last to comply with the law passed last winter placing these positions under the civil service. The Board of Estimate has not yet established the places and fixed the pay. It will probably be $2,500 for supervisors and $1,800 for the assistants.

At present the supervisors and assistants are appointed by Commissioner of Markets O'Malley. They collect $1 a week from the vendors in their markets. Out of this fund they are supposed to pay their expenses, including $25 a week for the assistants, give themselves $50 a week and turn what is left over to the city.

MAN BRITAIN DEPORTED IS DENIED HAVEN HERE

Russian Sailor on Celtic Is Turned Back at Island.

A special board of inquiry at Ellis Island has ordered Joseph Kosloski, 29, also known as John Lutka, deported on the ground that he is likely to become a public charge. Kosloski shipped aboard the White Star steamship Celtic from Liverpool and arrived here Sunday. He is a native of Russia and had been deported from England, according to immigration officials, because of alleged Bolshevik utterances. He was transferred from the crew of the Celtic before he reached this port.

How shall we get anywhere in being good?

The simplest answer is to let our minds be full of good thoughts, and endeavor to carry them out, and the ways will be consciously and unconsciously opened to do the good deeds we want to do.

Sincerity is the first step upward, and the way to good doing follows.

"Firewood, driftwood, oil stoves and soft coal may have to be used to keep New York warm this winter," says E. H. Outerbridge, chairman of Governor Miller's State Coal Commission.

He should have added: BLANKETS!

The papers are full of such talk—and it is more than talk. It is a fact! No matter how soon the coal strike ends, there will be a coal shortage this winter.

Well, if you can't get coal, get blankets!

And get them now. There may not be a shortage of blankets—though that is possible under an emergency demand caused by a coal shortage—but wool is advancing in price, and blanket prices will have to advance, also, sooner or later.

Raw wool is up from 50 to 100 per cent., according to grades, since November of last year. And the tariff may send it higher.

Blanket manufacturers are even now sending notices of advances. Such notices came only a few days ago.

The blankets we offer in this sale were contracted for when wool was at rock bottom—lowest for many years—and in addition we are selling them at a close profit, which means the values are really extraordinary:
